

What happened to freedom of speech?? You can't let big business dictate who can and cannot broadcast valueable information such as weather and traffic. This information needs to be available to everyone and the more sources, the better. XM radio represents free media - something that has been lost with government and big business monopolizing public information. Our country is in jeopardy of losing sight of the founding principles on which it was built.

Let the public decide what to say, hear and watch, and where to do it.

I support XM radio and you should too. Do the right thing by showing the NAB that XM radio is a valid competitor in the market and has the same right to provide information as they do. Let democracy and capitalism take their course. A product as good as XM radio deserves credibility. Do not prevent them from receiving it.

Thank you for your attention.
